

The Art of Collecting

What should current and would-be collectors think about before searching for art? Join us for a “chat” about this and related questions with Swedish fine art specialist Anders Welander on Wednesday, May 7 at 7 p.m at ASI. Cost for the event is $15 ($10 ASI members). For Visa or MasterCard reservations call 612-871-4907.

Based in New York, Anders Welander is the prints specialist for Bukowskis in Stockholm, the oldest fine art and antique auction house in Scandinavia. In Sweden, Welander is also a TV personality, where he co-stars in the program “Antikdetekarna” (The Antique Detectives). Two detectives each look for an item to sell at auction, the one in a home and the other at an antique dealer or collectable market. The object is to guess which piece will bring the most money at auction.

At ASI, Welander will discuss considerations for collectors and would-be collectors, paying special attention to Zorn’s etchings and Swedish print collections.
